

Johnny Georges'

TREE T-PEE

Tested by the Freeze

With two nights of freezing temperatures recently, citrus growers across Florida took extra precautions to ensure the lives of their trees. A little less stress was welcoming to those farmers who use Johnny Georges' Tree-T-Pee. With temperatures dropping to 25 degrees, trees without the Tree-T-Pee were surrounded with ice. However, those with the Tree-T-Pee did not have a drop of ice on them. Monitoring temperatures in the groves both nights, Johnny is proud to share that the temperature inside the Tree-T-Pee never got below 40 degrees.

Johnny explained, "with the irrigation systems running, it was like a steam bath coming up around the tree keeping it warm." As the morning sun hit the black on the Tree-T-Pee, it immediately absorbed the warmth, causing the temperatures to be raised by 10 degrees inside the Tree-T-Pee. "It produces phenomenal results," Johnny has been told.

He's also received numerous notes. One in particular read: The Tree-T-Pee is such a simple idea. All we have to do is reach out, grab a hold and embrace it - it's there and it will change the world. For more information, visit <http://treetpee.com>

When people ask Johnny why he does what he does, he states, "The inspiration that makes me the man I am, causes me to strive to be a better person, and gives me my passion... is my son Wesley." Johnny gives all the credit to God being number one in his and his son's life. He also added, "We are humbled and blessed by the attention given. I thank God and Pine Levels Methodist Church in Arcadia for their support and prayers. Changing the world doesn't happen over night, but with the Tree-T-Pee, we're going to do it!"
